FARM CONNECTION

SCDA'S NEW MARKET DEVELOPMENT TEAM WORKS TO MATCH PRODUCERS AND BUYERS

BY EVA MOORE • PHOTOS BY KATIE PFEIFFER

The South Carolina Department of Agriculture has created a new Market Development team to unite the department's retail merchandising and specialty crop outreach efforts.

The team's goal is to help match up producers with appropriate markets – retail, wholesalers, food hubs, and others – as well as to help them identify resources to build their capacity and reach new markets.

Fire Ant Farms on Johns Island grows fresh vegetables like kale, collards, specialty peppers, turnips, carrots and more. They've succeeded during the pandemic by selling at their local farmers market with occasional wholesale opportunities.

As a food hub, retailer and eatery, Swamp Rabbit Café and Grocery is a key buyer for many Upstate producers.

Crescent Farm is an organic farm in Clinton that operates a CSA, sells to local retailers like Swamp Rabbit Café, and is also interested in selling to schools and hospitals to help feed their local community. SCDA recently connected the farm with a Columbia wholesaler looking for sweet potatoes for a school cafeteria.

The department administers several Specialty Crop Block Grant funding opportunities that can help farms reach new markets, such as cost share grants for organic certification and cold storage installation. LauraKate McAllister, director of the South Carolina Specialty Crop Growers Association and a member of the Market Development team, helps connect farmers with these opportunities.

In addition, the department's Agribusiness Center for Research and Entrepreneurship (ACRE) program offers competitive programs and funding to help entrepreneurs develop their businesses.

Beginning next year, SCDA will also be offering a Specialty Crop Block Grant to cover part of the registration fees for producers to attend trade shows and marketing events. Having more South Carolina companies present at these regional events can help increase opportunities for economic development in the state's specialty crop industry, says Pfeiffer.

The department also creates opportunities to facilitate relationship-building like the Certified South Carolina Grower-Buyer Mash Up scheduled for March 22 at the State Farmers Market.

Since forming, the team has been spending some time on the road visiting farms around the state.

"We're trying to get out and meet more of these midsize farmers," says Katie Pfeiffer, Market Development Coordinator for SCDA and the leader of the new team. "A lot of people don't know we offer certain services and funding, or that I have contacts in the buyer world." She also likes to keep new and existing farms on her radar for when buyers call looking for a particular product.

HOW I GIVE THANKS

Thanksgiving is one of my favorite holidays because of its relative simplicity. It's focused on family and food – and some football—without all the hustle and bustle that comes later at Christmas. But like so many other things in 2020, it's going to be different this year. Families are having tough conversations about how – and if – to gather together and give thanks in a pandemic.

The changes even extend to agriculture. I've been reading news reports that many Americans plan to seek out smaller turkeys this year because we won't be gathering in such big groups. That means more uncertainty for Thanksgiving turkey producers – on the one hand, smaller turkeys, but on the other hand, perhaps more demand as the number of gatherings increases. If you're going with a smaller turkey, go ahead and get two.

As we know, people have been staying home and cooking more during the pandemic, and that's sure to translate into more home-cooked Thanksgiving meals. Remember to look for the Certified SC Grown label when you're picking out your collard greens and sweet potatoes!

Normally, Blanche cooks a big Thanksgiving spread, but even our family gatherings are impacted by 2020. We may be like others with a smaller gathering, but not just due to COVID – grandparents have to share holiday time with grandchildren with the other side of their family, after all! That's okay, because Christmas is right around the corner.

In spite of the pandemic and other turmoil of 2020, our list of blessings is still a long one. I'm thankful for a whole lot, including getting through the coronavirus in July with a mild case. I'm also very thankful that my grandson Ransom had very successful heart surgery in August. Though only eight months old, he feels like a new man.

Like all of you, I'm very grateful for those who have served on the front line of this war with COVID and that a vaccine appears promising.

I'm thankful to be able to lead a very fine group of individuals here at the Department of Agriculture. In spite of the pandemic and everything else that 2020 has thrown at us, we have not been deterred from meeting the responsibilities that are entrusted to us on behalf of all South Carolinians.

Like many of you, I am thankful not to lose faith in the future. Despite 2020 being a year we'd all like to forget, we will see "normal" times again, but with a deeper appreciation for all the things for which we have thankful hearts.

Speaking of thanks, I'll end with a simple blessing that my 5-year old granddaughter Clara learned last year...and that is to be thankful for the food before us, the family around us, and the love between us.

Booth's Christmas Tree Farm

November 21 – December

Mon – Sat 8 am – 6 pm | Sun 1 – 5 pm

We have been busy getting our trees and farm ready for this selling season. We will have some requirements in place to help keep our customers and our staff safe during this COVID pandemic. We will be sanitizing the hayride trailer between rides and we will require masks while on the hayride trailer. We ask that you use normal social distancing while onboard as well as your entire visit on the farm. We are a wide-open space with no indoor areas and we will be sanitizing high traffic surfaces as much as we can, sanitizing saws between customers, and our workers will have masks provided to them. Masks will be available for sale for $1 each if you forget yours. But they will be required in payment area and on the hayride. Erin Dietrich will be onsite this year for COVID-19 friendly Santa photos (our 10th year doing these no-appointment-necessary pictures) on Saturday and Sunday 11/28, 11/29 and 12/5, 12/6 from 12–4 pm.

SOUTH CAROLINA CHRISTMAS TREES

BY STEVE PENLAND, SOUTH CAROLINA CHRISTMAS TREE ASSOCIATION

South Carolina Christmas tree growers across the state have been busy preparing their farms for the many families to visit and select a real Christmas tree. These families know that they will be able to select and purchase a quality, fresh South Carolina-grown Christmas tree in a fresh air, open environment at a reasonable price.

South Carolina Christmas tree growers grow many varieties of Christmas trees – Virginia Pine, White Pine, Leyland and Murray Cypress, Eastern Red Cedar, Carolina Sapphire, and several exotics. Whether your family selects the Virginia Pine for its sturdy branches or the Eastern Red Cedar for the traditional southern aroma, you will not go wrong with any selection. They are all great SC-grown Christmas trees that will stay fresh for the holiday season if you follow some basic steps.

As soon as you get your tree home, place your tree in a bucket of water or a water base stand. We recommend that a fresh, straight ¼ inch or more cut across the base of the trunk be performed. This will ensure that dried pitch or excessive dirt will not stop water intake. We also recommend you select a tree stand that will hold at least one gallon of water and maintain your water level daily to ensure tree freshness.

After the holiday season, recycle your Christmas tree by taking it to one of the many municipal recycling centers for mulching. You can also use your Christmas tree for soil containment or fish bed construction.

To find a SC Christmas tree farm near you, visit scchristmastrees.org and click on the map to locate a farm near you. You are then able to click on those listings and see what each farm has to offer.

TREE CARE INSTRUCTIONS

- ✓ Cut at least ¼ inch off the tree trunk.
- ✓ Display in stand with at least one gallon of water. (Fresh trees will drink a gallon or two per day!)
- ✓ Check water daily.
- ✓ Do not place tree near a heat source.

Christmas Trees

COMMON SC CHRISTMAS TREE VARIETIES

BLUE ICE

A variety of Arizona Cypress. Foliage is blue green in color, soft to the touch, and very dense with an outstanding aroma. Due to their tendency to dry out even in water stands, it is recommended to cut these three to four weeks before Christmas.

scchristmastrees.org

DEODAR CEDAR

Branching and needles similar to firs. Great for decorating, sturdy but prickly. Unique musky aroma. Lasts well, but like firs, some inner needle shedding can occur. Native to the Himalayas.

MURRAY CYPRESS

A variety of the Leyland Cypress. This tree drops very few needles and with proper care, will easily stay fresh through the entire Christmas season. In addition to being a beautiful tree with soft foliage and a lemon mint aroma, it does not produce pollen.

CAROLINA SAPPHIRE

A relatively new cultivar of Arizona Cypress. Beautiful blue color and wonderfully aromatic. Longevity is similar to cedar but is soft to the touch!

trees.sc.gov

EASTERN RED CEDAR

Most of us in the South had one growing up. Great smell but somewhat prickly. Not as long-lasting as pines. Best cut two to three weeks before Christmas. A Southern Classic!

trees.sc.gov

VIRGINIA PINE

The most popular Christmas pine on South Carolina tree farms. Sturdy limbs, long-lasting, great pine scent. Native to upper piedmont and mountain areas.

CLEMSON GREENSPIRE

A variety of Arizona Cypress developed in cooperation with Clemson University for Christmas trees and rooted in greenhouse operations. Tree has a conical shape and light green foliage. An excellent Christmas tree.

LEYLAND CYPRESS

Incredibly long-lasting when kept in water. Doesn't shed! Fast becoming the new Southern tradition in Christmas trees.

WHITE PINE

South Carolina is one of the few Southern states growing this Christmas pine, which grows naturally all the way into Canada. Soft blue-green foliage, long-lasting with a great pine scent. Takes the longest to grow.

GET SOIL TESTED AT CLEMSON AG SERVICE LAB

BY DENISE ATTAWAY, CLEMSON UNIVERSITY

CLEMSON – Fall is in the air and hundreds of photos of changing landscape colors are being shot every day. Clemson University experts say pictures growers should focus on this season are those that give a clearer vision of their soils’ health.

Soil tests can help by giving snapshots of soil fertility. These tests are available from the Clemson Agricultural Service Laboratory.

“Fall and winter are the best times for growers to have their soils tested,” said Shannon Alford, Ag Service Laboratory director. “Testing now gives growers plenty of time to get their soils ready for spring planting.”

Soil tests run at $6 per sample. The basic soil test provides information regarding soil pH, calcium, magnesium, phosphorus, potassium, sodium and more. Growers who test now have plenty of time to apply lime, fertilizer and other nutrients needed to grow profitable crops in the spring.

“Each soil report is tailored to the specific crop and soil results,” Alford said. “When growers have their soils tested, they will be given crop-specific recommendations to assist them in making fertility decisions for optimal crop yields.”

Separate soil samples should be collected for areas cropped or fertilized differently or those with different soil types or textures. For large areas, one soil sample should represent 10 acres or less. For home gardens, lawns or ornamental beds, just one sample is required per uniform area.

To collect soil samples:

- Use a soil auger, spade or shovel. Samples from cultivated areas should be taken from the surface to a depth of 6 to 8 inches. Samples from pasture or turf should be taken only 2 to 4 inches deep.
- Soil cores should be approximately the same size throughout their depth. No adjustments are needed if using a soil probe. If using a spade or shovel, take a thin slice from the side of a

V-shaped hole. Take sub-samples from at least 12 locations within the sample area.

- Place the sub-samples in a clean plastic bucket and mix thoroughly.
- Do not heat a moist soil sample to dry. Spread soil out on newspaper and let air dry overnight. Crumble and mix before it hardens.
- Label or number each soil bag. Fill bag to fill line (the equivalent of 1-2 cups). Do not use the same number for more than one sample.

A soil analysis form should accompany each sample. These forms can be found at clemson.edu/public/regulatory/ag-srvclab/soil-testing/soil.pdf. Samples, payments and completed forms can be sent to the Ag Service Lab by any of the following methods:

- Shipping samples to 171 Old Cherry Road, Clemson, SC 29634, via the U.S. Postal Service, United Parcel Service or FedEx.
- Contacting the local County Cooperative Extension Office to see if it is open and available for dropoffs.
- Leaving samples in the dropbox on the lab’s loading dock at 171 Old Cherry Road, Clemson, SC 29634. Forms for all sample types are available at the dropbox. Leave samples and payment. The dropbox is checked multiple times per day. Ring the doorbell during regular business hours to alert someone to check for your dropoff.
- Ordering a soil sample mailer kit online, one per sample. This mailer is recommended for one or two samples only, and only for soil. The mailer includes a form, instructions, soil sample bag, and postage-paid envelope for return. Instructions for ordering a soil sample mailer kit are available at: clemson.edu/public/regulatory/ag-srvclab/soil-sampler-mailer.html

Once clients receive their reports, they can call the staff at the Clemson Home and Garden Information Center, (888) 656-9988, or their local Cooperative Extension Service county office for consultation.

To reach the Ag Service Lab, call (864) 656-2068 from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, or email agsrvlab@clemson.edu. The lab is part of Clemson Regulatory and Public Service Programs.

In addition to soil tests, other services provided by the Ag Service Lab include analytical tests for:

- Feed and forage – to determine nutrient content of feed such as hay, silage, forage, grain and pet treats.
- Plant Tissue – to determine nutrient deficiencies or toxic levels in plant tissue samples.
- Irrigation Water – to determine nutrient levels and other components such as acid levels, salinity, alkalinity, nitrates and more in water used for irrigation.
- Animal Waste – to determine content of animal waste used as fertilizer.

Soil test factsheets are available online from the Clemson Home and Garden Information Center at hgic.clemson.edu.

2020 LEGAL NOTICES

NOMINATIONS FOR CANDIDATES TO FILL VACANCIES ON THE SOUTH CAROLINA WATERMELON BOARD

Pursuant to the provisions of the "Agriculture Commodities Marketing Act" of 1968, as amended, and Marketing Order No. 7 for South Carolina Watermelons issued by the Agriculture Commission of South Carolina, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the terms of the following members of the South Carolina Watermelon Board expire as follows:

Terms expiring December 31, 2020

DISTRICT I	Mark Williams, Islandton, SC
	Rusty Kinard, Lodge, SC
DISTRICT II	Scotty Sandifer, Blackville, SC

As a board member for the South Carolina Watermelon Board, you will be involved in watermelon advertising and sales promotion, research, prevention of unfair trade practices, cooperation with other agencies, market development programs, educational programs and determining the grades of acceptable watermelons in South Carolina.

Due to the Coronavirus, nominations for the expiring seats will be handled as follows:

If you are interested in becoming a SC Watermelon Board Member, you will need to request a petition. This petition can be requested by calling (803) 734-9807, (803) 734-2217 or by emailing elloyd@scda.sc.gov. All petitions must be received by Monday, December 7, 2020. For a petition to be eligible/accepted, it must be signed by no less than five watermelon producers from the counties of the District seat you are petitioning for.

Terms of office are for 3 years. To qualify, a candidate must be a resident of South Carolina and of the District where he/she petitions for nomination. This person must be actively engaged in the production of watermelons within the State of South Carolina for a period of no less than one year. Additionally, during that one-year period, the candidate will have derived a substantial portion of his income there from and shall continue to do so during their term of office.

District 1 includes the following counties: Darlington, Cherokee, Spartanburg, York, Lancaster, Chester, Union, Fairfield, Berkeley, Charleston, Richland, Florence, Marion, Clarendon, Sumter, Kershaw, Lee, Williamsburg, Georgetown, Horry, Dillon, Marlboro, Chesterfield, Aiken, Bamberg, Calhoun, Colleton, Dorchester, Lexington, Orangeburg, Abbeville, Anderson, Greenville, McCormick, Oconee, Pickens, Laurens, Greenwood, Edgefield, Saluda, and Newberry.

District 2 includes the following counties: Allendale, Barnwell, Beaufort, Hampton, and Jasper.

NOMINATING MEETINGS FOR CANDIDATES TO FILL VACANCIES ON THE SOUTH CAROLINA SOYBEAN BOARD

Pursuant to the provisions of the "Agricultural Commodities Marketing Act" of 1968, and as amended, the "Marketing Order No. 1a for South Carolina Soybeans" issued by the Agriculture Commission of South Carolina, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the terms of the following members of the South Carolina Soybean Board expire as follows:

Terms expiring December 31, 2020

District 2	Dean Hutto, Holly Hill, SC
	Joe Alvin Derrick, Johnston, SC

As a board member for the South Carolina Soybean Board, your primary focus is to prepare plans, administer and conduct programs, and expend monies for advertising and sales promotion to promote the sale of soybeans and soybean products in domestic and foreign markets for the purpose of maintaining existing markets or creating new and/or larger markets for soybeans grown in the State of South Carolina and the products thereof, including but not necessarily limited to the following:

Increasing the sale and consumption of South Carolina produced soybeans and soybean products using any advertising media available

Trade promotion, and market expansion activities

Prevention, modification, or elimination of trade barriers which restrict the free flow of soybeans produced in this State

Presentation of facts to and negotiations with state, federal, or foreign governmental agencies on matters which affect the marketing of soybeans produced in South Carolina including cooperation of all kinds with any agency or group in efforts to increase consumption and utilization of soybeans, and such other activities and programs which are consistent with the objectives of the Marketing Order and the Act.

Due to the Coronavirus, nominations for the expiring seats will be handled as follows:

If you are interested in becoming a SC Soybean board member, you will need to request a petition. This petition can be requested by calling (803) 734-9807, (803) 734-2217 or by emailing elloyd@scda.sc.gov. All petitions must be received by Monday, November 30, 2020. For a petition to be eligible/accepted, it must be signed by no less than five soybean producers from the counties of District 2.

Terms of office are for 3 years. To qualify, a candidate must be a resident of South Carolina and be actively engaged in producing soybeans within the State of South Carolina for a period of no less than one year. Additionally, during that one-year period, candidate will have derived a substantial portion of his income there from and shall continue to do so during their term of office.

District 1 includes the Counties of Abbeville, Anderson, Cherokee, Chester, Chesterfield, Fairfield, Greenville, Greenwood, Kershaw, Lancaster, Laurens, McCormick, Newberry, Oconee, Pickens, Saluda, Spartanburg, Union, and York.

District 2 includes the Counties of Aiken, Allendale, Bamberg, Barnwell, Calhoun, Edgefield, Hampton, Lexington, Orangeburg, and Richland.

AUTUMN TIPS FOR WINTERIZING YOUR LAWN AND LANDSCAPE

BY SUZY ELLISON

Even with summer over, it’s still important to care for your lawn. Put in some work now to lay the groundwork for a healthy lawn and yard in the future.

- Rake the leaves and pine straw regularly. Don’t wait for everything to finish falling. Removing debris prevents fungal diseases caused by the leaves and straw matting trapping morning dew and rain.
- Keep mowing throughout the season. Mowing allows less grass to turn brown during the winter and provides more sunlight into the grass. Bagging the clippings is recommended, as it makes for a much neater more manicured appearance and is ideal for the overall health of the grass.
- Fertilize/Pre-Emerge for early spring growth and the prevention of weeds. Check with your local garden center or SiteOne Landscape Supply to see what is recommended for your lawn type.
- Top-dress thin or bare areas. Washed masonry sand and Stout Ollie Compost combined make an excellent mixture. Be sure to loosen the soil in the bare or thin area, then spread the mixture and water well afterward, which will pave the way for growth the next season. If you choose the easier way, check with your local garden center for a ready-to-use mix.
- Aerate your lawn. This process pulls plugs from the soil to ease compaction and releases carbon dioxide, methane and nitrous oxide, allowing oxygen into the soil. Check your local rental stores for a walk-behind aerator if you are into DIY; if not, find a lawn care service that provides aeration.
- Mulch your trees and shrubs. Mulching helps to retain moisture, keep weeds at a minimum, and insulates the plant roots to ward off cold winter temperatures.

EPA ANNOUNCES 2020 DICAMBA REGISTRATION DECISION

Brooklet, Georgia — At the Cromley Farm in October, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Administrator Andrew Wheeler announced that EPA is approving new five-year registrations for two dicamba products and extending the registration of an additional dicamba product. All three registrations include new control measures to ensure these products can be used effectively while protecting the environment, including non-target plants, animals, and other crops not tolerant to dicamba.

“With today’s decision, farmers now have the certainty they need to make plans for their 2021 growing season,” said EPA Administrator Andrew Wheeler. “After reviewing substantial amounts of new information, conducting scientific assessments based on the best available science, and carefully considering input from stakeholders we have reached a resolution that is good for our farmers and our environment.”

Through today’s action, EPA approved new registrations for two “over-the-top” (OTT) dicamba products—XtendiMax with VaporGrip Technology and Engenia Herbicide—and extended the registration for an additional OTT dicamba product, Tavium Plus VaporGrip Technology. These registrations are only for use on dicamba-tolerant (DT) cotton and soybeans and will expire in 2025, providing certainty to American agriculture for the upcoming growing season and beyond.

To manage off-site movement of dicamba, EPA’s 2020 registration features important control measures, including:

- Requiring an approved pH-buffering agent (also called a Volatility Reduction Agent or VRA) be tank mixed with OTT dicamba products prior to all applications to control volatility.

- Requiring a downwind buffer of 240 feet and 310 feet in areas where listed species are located.
- Prohibiting OTT application of dicamba on soybeans after June 30 and cotton after July 30.
- Simplifying the label and use directions so that growers can more easily determine when and how to properly apply dicamba.

The 2020 registration labels also provide new flexibilities for growers and states. For example, there are opportunities for growers to reduce the downwind spray buffer for soybeans through use of certain approved hooded sprayers as an alternative control method. EPA also recognizes and supports the important authority FIFRA section 24 gives the states for issuing locally appropriate regulations for pesticide use. If a state wishes to expand the federal OTT uses of dicamba to better meet special local needs, the agency will work with them to support their goals.

This action was informed by input from state regulators, grower groups, academic researchers, pesticide manufacturers, and others. EPA reviewed substantial amounts of new information and conducted assessments based on the best available science, including making Effect Determinations under the Endangered Species Act (ESA). With this information and input, EPA has concluded that these registration actions meet Federal Insecticide, Fungicide and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA) registration standards. EPA believes that these new analyses address the concerns expressed in regard to EPA’s 2018 dicamba registrations in the June 2020 U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. Further, EPA concluded that with the control measures now required on labels, these actions either do not affect or are not likely to adversely affect endangered or threatened species.

FARM CREDIT TO HELP SC FARMS GET ORGANIC CERTIFICATION

BY SCDA

COLUMBIA – Two farm credit associations are supporting organic certification for Palmetto State farmers by supplementing a popular grant program offered by the South Carolina Department of Agriculture (SCDA).

The Organic Certification Cost Share Program uses federal money to reimburse producers and handlers of agricultural products up to 50 percent of their total allowable organic certification costs, up to a maximum of $500 per certification scope. AgSouth Farm Credit, ACA and ArborOne Farm Credit, ACA have generously offered to supplement SCDA’s grant offers with additional funding, for an additional 25 percent of certification costs up to a maximum of $250 per certification scope.

Organic certification can help farmers and food producers find new markets and expand their customer base. The cost share grant helps alleviate some of the financial burden of certification.

“I value our partners at ArborOne and AgSouth and their support of South Carolina farmers,” said Commissioner of Agriculture Hugh Weathers. “This is a great example of cooperation between government and the private sector.”

To learn more about this new funding opportunity and other cost share reimbursement programs through SCDA, visit agriculture.sc.gov/grants.

To view the final registration of the dicamba products, visit docket EPA-HQ-OPP-2020-0492 at atreregulations.gov.

BACKGROUND

The United States is the world’s leading soybean producer and second-leading soybean exporter and also serves as the world’s third-largest cotton producer and the leading cotton exporter. Today, there are limited cost-effective options to control herbicide-resistant weeds affecting these commodities. In 2018, approximately 41 percent of U.S. soybean acreage was planted with dicamba-tolerant (DT) seed and almost 70 percent of U.S. cotton acreage was planted with DT seed in 2019. Relative to alternative herbicide programs, postemergence dicamba may reduce weed control costs for some growers, possibly by as much as $10 per acre, or over five percent of net operating revenue, not accounting for all measures growers will have to take to control off-field movement of dicamba.

Following reports of damage resulting from the off-site movement of dicamba, EPA amended the dicamba registration labels in 2017 and in 2018. In June 2020, the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit vacated the registrations for three dicamba products: XtendiMax with VaporGrip Technology, Engenia Herbicide, and DuPont FeXapan Herbicide. As a result of the Court’s decision, EPA issued cancellation orders outlining limited circumstances under which existing stocks of the three affected products could be distributed and used until July 31, 2020.

CERTIFIED DELICIOUS

LIVEN UP YOUR HOLIDAY TABLE OR HOMEGATING SPREAD WITH PARTY RECIPES

With COVID-19 slashing sporting event attendance and health experts urging people to avoid large gatherings, the 2020 football season has been unlike any other. Some fans have turned to “homegating” to channel their need to entertain, setting out snacks and dips or whole buffets for close family and friends in the comfort of their own home.

To introduce some Certified South Carolina products to the homegating table, SCDA reached out to producers and chefs from around the state to pull together party-appropriate recipes. We’ve been sharing them on Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter throughout the football season. And now, with Thanksgiving and other holiday celebrations on the horizon, we are sharing some of them with Market Bulletin readers.

BUTTER BEANS WITH BUTTER, MINT, & LIME

- INGREDIENTS
- Kosher salt
  - 6 c. fresh or frozen shelled butter beans
  - 3 Tbsp. unsalted butter, cut into small pieces
  - Juice of 2 large limes

- 1 c. loosely-packed mint leaves, chopped
  - Freshly ground black pepper
  - 1 tsp. grated lime zest, for garnish

DIRECTIONS

In a medium saucepan, bring 6 cups of water and 1 tablespoon salt to a boil over high heat. Add the butter beans and let cook until tender, 9 to 12 minutes, depending on the size of the beans. Drain in a colander, and shake the colander several times to shed as much water from the beans as possible. Place the butter in a large serving bowl, and pour the warm butter beans on top. Toss the beans with the butter until all the butter is melted. Add the lime juice and toss again to distribute. Fold in the chopped mint, season with salt and black pepper, and scatter lime zest over the top. Serve.

BUTTERNUT SQUASH & RICOTTA CROSTINI

- INGREDIENTS
- 1 large butternut squash, peeled and ½-inch-diced
  - Olive oil
  - Salt & ground black pepper
  - 1 tsp brown sugar

- 1 bunch fresh sage
  - 1 lg loaf sourdough bread
  - 1½ cups fresh ricotta, homemade or store-bought
  - Fresh lemon juice & zest of 1 lemon

DIRECTIONS

Preheat oven to 425°. Toss diced squash with 2 tbsp. oil, S&P, and sugar in a bowl. Spread onto a baking sheet and roast 25-30 mins. Heat oil in a skillet over med heat. Add sage and cook until edges begin to curl and turn dark green, 1-2 minutes. Drain and cool browned sage on a paper towel. Mix ricotta and lemon zest in a small bowl. Season with salt and pepper. Spread ricotta mixture on sourdough slice and top with squash and drizzle with lemon juice and olive oil. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, and 2 fried sage leaves.

DEVIILED DIJON COLLARD EGGS

- INGREDIENTS
- 2 whole large eggs, hard boiled
  - 2 tsp. Dijon mustard
  - 2 tsp. fresh squeezed lemon juice

- 1 tsp. minced garlic
  - ¼ tsp. cayenne pepper
  - ½ c. Nature’s Greens® Collard Greens

DIRECTIONS

PECAN SPINACH ARTICHOKE DIP

- INGREDIENTS
- 8 oz. reduced fat cream cheese
  - 1 14 oz. can artichoke hearts packed in water, drained
  - 1 c. reduced fat Greek yogurt
  - ¾ c. parmesan cheese, shredded

- ¾ c. part skim mozzarella, shredded, divided
  - 10 oz. frozen spinach, thawed and squeezed
  - ½ tsp. kosher salt
  - ¼ tsp. black pepper
  - 1 c. raw pecan pieces

DIRECTIONS

In the bowl of a food processor, add cream cheese and artichokes. Pulse several times and transfer to a large bowl. Add Greek yogurt, parmesan cheese, ½ cup of mozzarella, spinach, kosher salt and black pepper. Mix well to combine. Spread mixture into an ovenproof skillet or small casserole dish. Sprinkle dip with pecan pieces and reserved mozzarella cheese. Cover with foil and bake at 375° for 20 to 25 minutes. Serve with chips, crackers, or vegetables.

PUMPKIN CORNBREAD

- INGREDIENTS
- 8 Tbsp. butter, softened and divided
  - 8 oz. cream cheese, softened
  - 2 c. shredded cheddar cheese, divided
  - 2 c. Adluh® flour
  - 2 c. Adluh® cornmeal

- 3 Tbsp. baking powder
  - 1 tsp. salt
  - 1 tsp. cinnamon
  - 2 c. milk
  - Heaping ½ c. pumpkin puree

DIRECTIONS

Preheat oven to 400°. Place cast iron pan in oven for 15 minutes. Meanwhile, in a large saucepan over medium-low heat, melt 7 tablespoons butter. Stir in cream cheese and 1 cup cheddar cheese until combined. Remove from heat and stir in flour, cornmeal, baking powder, salt and cinnamon until just combined, being careful not to over mix. Stir in milk and pumpkin until just combined. Remove pan from oven and add remaining tablespoon of butter. Tilt pan so that melted butter covers bottom of pan. Pour batter into heated pan and sprinkle with remaining cheddar cheese. Bake for 20-25 minutes or until a toothpick inserted into the middle comes out clean.

SAVORY BAKED BRIE WITH CRISPY MUSHROOMS

- INGREDIENTS
- 2 Tbsp. unsalted butter
  - 1 Tbsp. minced onion
  - 1 clove minced garlic
  - 6 oz. sliced mushrooms

- Kosher salt and pepper
  - 1 tsp. freshly chopped rosemary
  - 8 oz. brie
  - Toasted baguette, sliced

DIRECTIONS

Preheat oven to 350°. In a small saute pan, heat butter over medium heat. Add onion and garlic and saute for 1 minute. Add mushrooms and season with salt, pepper, and rosemary. Stir and cook until mushrooms begin to brown. Remove from heat. Place brie onto a rimmed baking sheet and bake for 10-12 minutes until warmed through. To serve: Place brie onto serving platter. Top with mushrooms and serve with toasted baguette slices.
